

A METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR INPUTTING INFORMATION INCLUDING COORDINATE DATA

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

- 5           A method, computer readable medium, and apparatus for inputting information, including coordinate data, includes: extracting a predetermined object from an image, including a predetermined object above a plane; detecting motion of the predetermined object while the predetermined object is within a predetermined distance from the plane; and then determining if to input predetermined information.